Important to those Afflicted!

DRS. STONE & PATTERSON, ECLECTICS.

WOULD inform the citizens of Clyde and vicinity that we have permanently located here, for the purpose of Practising Medicine and by our prompt attendance, and successful cures, we hope to gain a liberal share of patronage.

To those who have been afflicted for years, and have tried every body, (as they say), we would call their attention to this advertisement. We do not pretend that all diseases in all stages can be cured, yet there is a curable stage to all diseases, and a great many can be cured after they have been pronounced incurable by many; and others relieved so as to be comfortable and enjoy life. It is unnecessary here to enumerate all the diseases which he is heir to, and point out the curable stage of each, but call and we will tell you, without any charge, whether your particular case can be cured or not.

Special attention will be paid to Females who have Diseases peculiar to themselves.

L. C. STONE, M. D. J. PATTERSON, M. D. July 31 '52.

NUMBER 31.

Poetry.

Here is a very beautiful picture of domestic pleasure. We recommend the perusal of these few lines to our bachelor friends, feeling certain that it will produce a peculiar sensation about the region of the left ventricle. Try it.

I WAIT FOR THEE.

The hearth is swept—the fire is bright,
The kettle sings for thee;
The clock is ticking on the wall,
The lot of us is light,
And now I wait for thee,
Come home, love, come home,
The clock ticks faintly;
The blinds are shut, the curtain down,
The warm chair is the friendiest drawn,
And now I wait for thee,
Come home, love, come home,
The clock ticks faintly;
The blinds are shut, the curtain down,
The warm chair is the friendiest drawn,
And now I wait for thee.

Come home, love, come home,
The clock ticks faintly;
The blinds are shut, the curtain down,
The warm chair is the friendiest drawn,
And now I wait for thee,
Come home, love, come home,
The clock ticks faintly;
The blinds are shut, the curtain down,
The warm chair is the friendiest drawn,
And now I wait for thee.

Come home, love, come home,
The clock ticks faintly;
The blinds are shut, the curtain down,
The warm chair is the friendiest drawn,
And now I wait for thee,
Come home, love, come home,
The clock ticks faintly;
The blinds are shut, the curtain down,
The warm chair is the friendiest drawn,
And now I wait for thee.

Come home, love, come home,
The clock ticks faintly;
The blinds are shut, the curtain down,
The warm chair is the friendiest drawn,
And now I wait for thee,
Come home, love, come home,
